Ingredients:

- 170g butter, softened or soft margarine (straight from the fridge)
- 170g caster sugar
- 3 medium eggs
- 170g self-raising flour
- Raspberry jam to fill

Method:

1. Set the oven to 160°C (fan oven) or 180°C/ gas mark 4.
2. Grease and line the bottom of 2 x 20cm/8-inch sandwich tins.
3. Cream the butter/margarine and sugar using a wooden spoon or electric beaters very thoroughly until pale in colour. Creaming well will create air in the mixture which will help the cake to rise.
4. Beat the eggs then gradually add them to the mixture, beating well each time.
5. Sieve the flour and fold lightly into the mixture with a metal spoon.
6. Check that the consistency of the mixture is 'soft dropping' – i.e. will just drop off the spoon. If you have measured accurately no extra liquid should be needed, however, if it is too thick you can add a little milk or water.
7. Divide equally between the 2 tins and bake for 25mins in the middle of the oven. They are ready when they are golden, shrunk from the sides of the tin and spring back when touched.
8. Remove from the oven and place on a cooling tray for 5 mins.
9. Carefully remove the cakes from the tins and sit them on a clean tea towel on top of the cooling tray.
10. Peel the paper off carefully and fill with raspberry jam when cold to avoid jam bleeding into the cake.
11. Finish your cake with a light dusting of caster sugar on top.
